

Inventory Selections

The "News"

The "new" in New England takes on three very special meanings with this issue of Inventory Selections.

First, new means "more attractive and comprehensive" — as in "our new format." We've permanently redesigned our monthly mailer to bring you the most appealing, easily readable listings publication in the industry. And we've included special feature articles to help you keep abreast of the latest numismatic and investment news. Are we excited about our new look? Absolutely! Because we're sure that the new Inventory Selections is a more fulfilling numismatic reading experience for you.

New also means "a change of the guard" — as in "our new editor." This is the first of many Inventory Selections that will be edited by Greg Potter. Greg just recently joined us at New England after a two-year appointment as a writing teacher at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

In addition, Greg has edited and published two internationally distributed periodicals about collectibles. And, he's a collector in his own right. You can see his influence in this month's Inventory Selections. In future issues, Greg promises more innovations — more effort to bring you the best listings publication in the industry.

Finally, new means "more to choose from" — as in "our new inventory listings." We've just come back from the ANA Convention in Houston. And we didn't come back empty-handed. Included in this month's listings are our recent ANA purchases. Add these to one of the world's largest, most exciting inventories and you have a selection of high-quality rare coins beyond compare.

New format, new editor, new purchases. Because New England keeps innovating, we'll never grow old. We'll just keep getting newer every day!

Investment Forum

Investment Forum

Editor's Note: While teaching at the Harvard Business School, I insistently drilled one bit of wisdom into each of my students: Don't be afraid to ask questions! Students who never asked questions tended to learn very little. Students with their hands constantly in the air learned a lot. And knowledge is what makes businessmen and businesswomen successful.

So too with investors. New England would like to see every Inventory Selections reader become a tremendously successful coin investor. Yet, to be successful, you must be knowledgeable. That's what Investment Forum is all about. Write us. We'd like to help you become successful.

Write: Editor, Inventory Selections, New England Rare Coin Galleries, 89 Devonshire Street, Boston, MA 02109.

I know that rare coins are a fantastic investment now, but I'm worried about the future. Is the growth of the rare coin market likely to level off? If so, when? — M.D., East Moline, IL.

Yes, the market is likely to level off — but not for a long, long time. You see, the rare coin market probably won't level off until it reaches its "saturation point" — i.e. the point at which investors no longer wish to enter the market. At that juncture, there will be great resistance to high coin prices.

Right now, however, the number of investors in the market, compared to the number that could be in the market, is extremely low. Moreover, the number of investors in the market is not about to make a sudden, quantum leap. This is because rare coins aren't "familiar" investments like stocks or bonds. Therefore, big investment houses refrain from recommending them (although most big houses are currently studying rare coins' investment potential). And, even when coins do become fully "familiar," an enormous number of investors must enter the market in order for it to reach its saturation point. Thus, saturation isn't likely to occur for many, many years. The foreseeable future promises only rapid and profitable growth for investment-quality rare coins.

For a more detailed analysis of the coin market and its potential for growth, send for our free brochure entitled, "The Time Is Now." It's available by sending in the coupon you'll find on the back page of this Inventory Selections.

I've noticed that at public auctions, gold prices are getting higher and higher. Is now a good time to invest in gold? — F.S., Abington, PA.

Any time is a good time to invest in gold coins. Gold has always been cherished as a rare and beautiful commodity. Every wise investor should have at least some gold coins in his/her portfolio. However, now is an especially good time to buy. It seems that every four or five years, the popularity of gold coins experiences a surge (usually when gold bullion is also on the move). 1978 seems to be one of those years. Nor does this surprise us. Gold has been too quiet for too long now! However, as always, exercise caution in your purchases. Invest only in high quality, rare gold pieces and you'll be assured of a good return.

I noticed that the Red Book (The Guidebook of U.S. Coins) lists only a few patterns along with the regular U.S. issues. Should I only invest in those patterns, or should I also invest in patterns neglected by the Red Book? — V.C., Hartsdale, N.Y.

Usually, the patterns listed in the Red Book are the best bets. The Red Book lists only patterns that are currently in high demand and the very fact that the Red Book lists them tends to insure their continued high demand. Such patterns come in two basic varieties. The first variety includes patterns that feature issued design types — i.e. the designs on these patterns are exactly the same as on regularly issued coins. For example, the pattern for the 1856 Flying Eagle features a design exactly like the regular issue of that coin. As such, these patterns are sometimes collected as a part of the Flying Eagle series. This, coupled with the popularity of the Flying Eagle series, places the 1856 Flying Eagle pattern in high demand.

The second variety includes patterns whose designs, although never used on regularly issued coins, are stylistically unique. Examples of this include the Stella Dollar and Gobrecht Dollar. Unique coins excite collectors and, again, result in high demand.

Editor's Note: We've received many questions over the past months concerning KEOGH plans. New England is currently preparing a comprehensive brochure answering all of your questions concerning KEOGH. However, we'd like to share two of the most common questions about KEOGH with you here.

I'm a full-time free lance magazine and advertising artist. Am I eligible to establish a KEOGH plan? — J.H., Greenwich, CT.

Yes, indeed! There are two basic categories of individuals eligible for KEOGH plans. Very likely, you fall into the first category: self-employed businessmen or professionals. Others in this category include doctors, farmers, store owners, manufacturers' representatives or anyone else whose income is derived from self-employment in an unincorporated business.

The second category involves individuals who, while employed, have some sort of income not derived from their place of employment. For example, college professors who write books, businessmen who do consulting, and part-time free lance artists all fall into this category.

I have a KEOGH but my trustee won't allow me to place coins in it. Could you tell me why he refuses to do so? — K.J., Lexington, MA.

There are numerous reasons why trustees won't allow coins in their clients' KEOGH funds. In some cases, trustees don't wish to become involved with an "unknown" investment. In the case of some banks, it's often to the bank's advantage to have cash rather than any other type of investment in their clients' KEOGHs. Whatever the reason, it's to your advantage to place rare coins in your KEOUGH because coins appreciate so quickly. We suggest you talk to some other potential trustees in your area. Find out if any of them will place coins in KEOGHs. If so, it may be wise to change trustees. If not, contact us here at New England. We'll be glad to supply you with a list of several banks which do accept coin KEOGHs.

Rare Coins: the Outstanding Investment

by Charles J. Lidman, President
New England Rare Coin Galleries

Traditionally, coin collecting has been a fascinating source of historical, aesthetic and financial value. In this century, and particularly since World War II, extremely rapid appreciation has made rare coin collecting attractive to investors searching for stability and financial growth. Especially in the face of chronic monetary instability and worldwide inflation, today's investors are seeking alternatives to their paper portfolios, and are turning to tangible assets as an inflation hedge. This is nothing new. Throughout history, astute investors have held their assets in coins, precious metals and gems — especially in times of monetary deterioration.

Over the past 20 years, rare coins have outperformed virtually every other investment medium, including other tangibles. Between 1957 and 1977, the average of all investment-quality rare coins appreciated at an annual compound rate of 20%. The past 5 years show even more spectacular gains, averaging 29%, as more investors discover rare coins as a medium- or long-term investment vehicle (see Exhibit I). Market and economy downturns seem only to increase activity in rare coin investment. Currently, many sophisticated investors and financial planners now recommend rare coin holdings as a significant part of the total investment portfolio.

Advantages of rare coins. As physical entities, rare coins are highly portable; easily and inexpensively stored; privately possessed by their owners; and virtually indestructible. These physical characteristics contrast markedly with those of fragile antiques and art objects; intangible stock company ownership; and far-flung real estate holdings.

As economics entities, rare coins offer:

- High rate of appreciation: higher than virtually all other investment assets (including gold and silver bullion).
- Liquidity in a ready worldwide market through public auction or direct sale: a virtually fixed supply is traded by an ever-enlarging free global market of collectors, investors and dealers — all constantly pushing prices higher.
- Stability: rare coins are counter-cyclical, resistant to economic downturns and business cycles.
- Relatively inexpensive to purchase: a fine investment-quality rare coin can still be purchased for as little as $100.
- Taxed on capital gain at time of sale if held for over one year.
- Easily placed in KEOGH, IRA, profit-sharing, pension and other plans.

Investment-quality for maximum potential. It is human nature to want to possess "the best," especially when the best is rare and beautiful. Thus, Proof and Uncirculated rare coins — the "Gems" of numismatics — have always enjoyed a strong demand, which grows even stronger as the market continues to expand. These investment-quality rare coins often appreciate at rates 2 to 10 times that of lesser quality coins, and with so many purchasers for so few pieces, these Gem coins sell extremely quickly. Proof and Uncirculated coins consistently set record prices in the coin marketplace, making them extraordinary investments, as Exhibit II illustrates.

Investing in Rare Coins: A Final Word

Since rare coin investors usually cannot devote the necessary long hours to studying coin data and market trends, it is virtually imperative to select a numismatic counseling firm of unimpeachable reputation and wide resources. Working with an expert numismatist from a highly respected firm, you should review key variables, such as your investment objectives, including KEOGH, IRA or other tax-sheltered plan; the financial commitment you wish to make; your particular preferences in coin types or series; whether you are starting or upgrading a collection. With these and many other important variables determined, your counselor will make portfolio recommendations based on extensive knowledge of the numismatic market.

Investing in rare coins can be an extremely pleasurable and rewarding method of diversifying your investment portfolio. Accelerated investor demand for rare coins is adding pressure to a traditionally strong and ever-increasing collector demand, and points to a particularly promising rare coin market in the foreseeable future.

Market Report

Summer is a traditionally slow period for numismatic activity, while the coming of fall usually brings a marked increase in buying and selling. However, this summer was different. Market activity has been fast and furious. More buyers than ever entered the market. More new price records were set. If this summer is any indication, the season ahead should be leaping with activity!

Nowhere was the summer's booming market more evident than at the recent ANA Auction in Houston, sponsored by Bowers and Ruddy. The number of buyers attending the auction was enormous. Several large dealers (including ourselves!) openly sought to spend millions of dollars on new acquisitions. In fact, at New England, we found ourselves hard-pressed to purchase enough to fill our own inventory needs! It seems everyone had caught on to the wisdom of buying coins. For example, an 1803 Ten Dollar Gold Piece (MS-65) with a catalog value of $6,750, realized $20,500 at the auction. A 1980-S Ten Dollar Indian (MS-65) realized $11,000. And, a Gem Matte Proof 1911 Twenty Dollar Gold Piece realized a tremendous $22,000! Prices like these just aren't paid when the market is poor.

Another solid indicator of the market surge was the record prices paid for other rarities during the summer. At the Kaufman Auction held by Rarcoa (Rare Coin Company of America, Inc.) on August 4-5th, an 1831 Five Dollar Piece (Gem BU) sold for $35,000, while an 1825/4 Five Dollar Piece (VF/EF) sold for a record $140,000! New England's investors and collectors were especially eager to buy this summer. We sold our 1849-C Open Wreath Gold Dollar for a whopping $95,000 . . . one day after it was offered to the public. Rarities like these are sales leaders, and when they're purchased at such high prices, it's a sure sign of a soaring market.

Moreover, outside interest in the coin market is growing rapidly. Publications like Barron's (see the Barron's article reprinted in this issue of Inventory Selections), Time, Newsweek, and U.S. News and World Report have all recently published pieces on collectibles as investments. The Kaufman Auction was covered by a CBS-TV affiliate in Chicago and mentioned nation-wide on radio and in newspapers. In fact, Morley Safer and the "60 Minutes" crew attended this year's ANA. Publicity like this can only mean that more eager buyers will be joining the rare coin market soon.

Our Comprehensive Policies & Services:

1. Guarantees.

☐ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from us are graded correctly and will meet our high standards whenever you decide to sell them. Further, we guarantee to purchase these coins at the same grade as they were when sold. If you prefer to sell your collection through auction, New England Rare Coin Auctions will catalog your coins according to the grade at which you purchased them.

Our grading system is patterned after Dr. Sheldon's quantitative scale. Developed to grade Large Cents, his system has been almost universally adopted in recent years. It is now used to describe all denominations and series from Colonials to Pioneer Gold. The numbers used in this system are:

Poor.....	1
Fair .....	2
About Good.....	3
Good .....	4,6
Very Good .....	8,10
Fine .....	12,15
Very Fine .....	20,25,30,35
Extremely Fine .....	40,45
About Uncirculated .....	50,55
Borderline Uncirculated .....	55/60
Uncirculated.....	60
Choice Uncirculated .....	60/65
Gem Uncirculated .....	65
Superb Uncirculated .....	65/70

☐ Authenticity

We further guarantee the authenticity of all coins listed. As proof of our certainty that no counterfeit or altered coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price plus 10% interest per year on any non-authentic coin acquired from NERCG.

☐ Value

Compare our value, selection, grading, and prices with other sellers. If, for any reason, you are not satisfied, return your coins WITHIN 30 DAYS from the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.

☐ You have it in writing

These guarantees are issued in writing with all items purchased, and endorsed by two professional numismatists who review your order. Photographs are available upon request for all coins purchased with a value of $1,000 or more.

2. Expertise.

Our staff includes some of the most knowledgeable numismatists in America. We are often sought by government agencies, museums and other coin dealers for advice on authenticity and value. By attending virtually every major coin show and auction, and constantly monitoring dealer teletype circuits, we stay on top of the coin market better than anyone else.

3. Selection.

Our multi-million dollar inventory of rare coins is one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive. In addition, our staff examines several million dollars' worth of coins each week to bring our customers the very best values. New purchases are made available for sale as soon as they are cataloged.

4. Want Lists.

Our sales personnel will actively seek to locate your Want List items, whether the items come from our extensive inventory or from across the country.

5. Deferred Payment Plan.

Our new Deferred Payment Plan makes financing your rare coin purchases as convenient as possible. The Plan is easy: 25% down payment; 25% each 30 days for a maximum of 90 days; and absolutely no interest charges! $200 is the minimum order allowed under the Plan. If you'd like more information, give us a call.

6. Auction Sales.

New England Rare Coin Auctions offers excellent auction services. In fact, we've been selected to host the 1979 ANA Auction. If you have quality coins to sell, our auction sales will bring the best results. And if you're looking to buy high quality coins, bid at a New England Rare Coin auction.

7. Purchasing.

Each year the demand for high quality rare coins grows. So each year we purchase more and more rare coins. If you have coins to sell, send a description of them to New England. Our buying prices are the highest in the industry.

8. Toll-free Wats Line.

Use our toll-free WATS line (1-800-225-6794) to reserve the coins you wish to order. Should you wish to discuss the sale of your collection, or should you need additional information on any of our services, we'll be happy to assist you.

The Wise Investor Stays Informed...

Prices are skyrocketing. Collectors' preferences are shifting. The rare coin market is in a constant state of flux. That's why wise investors come to New England. Our numismatic publications keep you on top of the current market.

For example, take our latest offerings:

Rare Coins: The Outstanding Investment

A comprehensive overview of rare coin investing. Learn what makes a coin rare . . . the importance of condition . . . how rare coin availability compares with demand . . . how coins perform vs. the stock market. These and more facts every investor should know are in this free, attractively designed booklet.

The Time Is Now

Ever wonder why so many investors are jumping into today's rare coin market? Is the present boom likely to fizzle or will prices continue to climb? These and other crucial questions are answered in this free, highly readable brochure — prepared especially for New England readers by company president and financial expert Charles J. Lidman.

The New England Auction Summary

A tremendous aid in estimating what your coins could bring at auction. Handsomely designed for easy reading, the Summary lists coins sold at New England auctions by denomination and date. Within each date and mint mark, coins are ranked by condition, with sale dates and actual prices realized. Because New England is such a strong leader in the auction marketplace (we've been selected to host the 1979 ANA Auction), this listing is invaluable to the serious investor. And it's available for only $5.

STAY INFORMED!

Yes! I'd like to have the latest facts on rare coins as an investment.

- ☐ Send me your free booklet, Rare Coins: The Outstanding Investment.
- ☐ Send me your free booklet, The Time Is Now.
- ☐ Send me the New England Auction Summary. I have enclosed $5.
